decided by the extensions committee of the Rapid Transit Commission to recommend the immediate adoption of a plan to build moving platforms to a plan to build moving platforms to be operated from the Brooklyn end of the new Williamsburg bridge to the Battery in Manhaitan, by way of the Rapid Transit tunnel, now being dig in Lower Broadway. The outlay will be about $8,000,000. As the committeemen form a majority of the commission their vote may be regarded as final for that body, and the only element of uncertainty in the scheme is action by the board of aldermen. The moving platform idea has long been under discussion in connection with plans for easing the great crush of travel between New York and Brooklyn, but never before has it resched definite shape. The moving platforms could be easily operated across the bridge, which is now nearing completion, but their installation in the subway at the Manhattan end of the bridge would be an innovation.

Among the special guests on the steamer were Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and daughter. Comptroller of the Currency William H. Ridgley and Ellis H. Roberts.

Treasurer of the United States.

On the way down from Washington

Thursday night, Secretary Shaw made a speech in which he took a decidedly optimistic view of the business prospects of the country.

The Secretary said that we either must issue more bonds as a basis of National bank circulation or provide some substitute. The present volume of government bonds, he said, was insufficient, and a recent demand for $6.000,000 of government bonds had consequently advanced the price of government bonds to a figure that made national bank circulation unprofitable. But, he added, any currency system adopted must provide for exchangeability of every form of money, so that our people would never have cause to look twice at bills presented in the regular course of their business. Speaking of the functions of a bank, he said its success should not be measured by its dividends, but by its solvency, conservatism and promptness to respond to its customers' legitimate needs. Its reserves, in his opinion, should be available for use in times of emergency, and was not intended to be buried and never touched. The recent deposits of public moneys and offers to redeem bonds had not been made, he went on, with any expectation of alding the ricck market, but solely to assure the business man of the country that there would be no money famine this autumn.

"Go home." he said to the bankers, "and tell your merchants and manufacturers and all vill be well. The prosperity of the American people is not measured by the price of stocks and bonds but by the output of our farms and factories and the profitable employment of labor."

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An important response of the volunteer soldiers' homes of the United States has been sent to the War Department by Inspector-General Burton, who recently returned from a long inspection trip throughout the United States.

In addition to inspecting these soldiers' homes, Gen. Burton also made an inquiry into certain complaints concerning the management of post exchanges at the regular army garrisons. English Premier Discusses Near E:st Situation.

Not Merely a Contest Between Turk and Christian.

Racial as Well as Religious Difjerences Make an Aimest Insoluble Preblem.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) LONDON, Sept. 25.-[By Atlantic Ca ole.] Premier Balfour in a lengthy let-er to the Archbishop of Canterbury. ter to the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Davidson, discusses the Macedonian situation. The letter is in reply to the archibishop's action in drawing attention to the growing uneasiness among churchmen at the apparent apathy of the powers, "while unspeakable atrocities are perpetrated in Macedonia."

Mr. Balfour says he is in entire sympathy with the facilings of herces and party with the facilings of herces and processing the same properties. pathy with the feelings of borror and indignation, and fully understands the desire to give expression in public meeting to the sentiment of reproba-tion which recent events justified. He then proceeds to analyse the situation.

We have not to deal with a sample of misgovernment or oppression by Turkish officials, but with a problem complicated by the fact that the Chris-of miagovernment or oppression by Turkish officials, but with a problem complicated by the fact that the Christian population of Macedonia-is rent in fragments by differences of race, aggravated by differences of religion, and in addition to the ills inflicted by a corrupt and incapable administration, and by an ill-paid and undisciplined soldiery, and by a detestable system of taxation, we have to reckon with all the ills which, in a pepulation not imbused with western ideas of humanity, rival nationalities and sects do not scruple to inflict on one another.

Mr. Balfour adds: "The instrument wnereby the situation may be dealt with is the concert of Europe. But this, even were they all in harnony, is not essarily slow and may easily be ineligative if the problem is complex." It was a matter of congratulation when Russia and Austria, acting with the authority of Europe, proposed to press the scheme of reforms which, while lacking in theoretical perfection, came within the circuit of practical politics and would, if more carnestly pressed by the Forts, and more frankly accepted by the Macedonian population, have spared the world the horrors it has since witnessed. Neither of these conditions was fulfilled. The Porte, as usual, was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The revolutionists have decliberately done their best to drive the Turk to excesses, and furnish him with an excuse for deferring the execution of reforms, meeting horrors with horrors and brutality with brutality, for the deliberate purpose of driving the Turk to crimes against the innocent, and thus play upon the sympathies of the world.

"Such methods are no more morally tolerable than the misgovernment which is their excuse."

Coming to the question of the attitude of Great Britafn Mr. Balfour points out that Russis, Austria and Turkey cannot be indifferent to a territorial redistribution in the peninsula, while Greece, Bulgaria, Servia and Roumania are all interested in the fate of the world. "Such metho

This country possesses. Mr. Bairour asserts, incomparable influence over the antagonistic forces in the peninsula. In fact no other nation or group of nations could do it at all if Russia and Austria were hostile. Great Britain was not precluded by the policy outlined from offering suggestions, which has already been done, and she will conilready been done, and she will con-inue to do so. But it will be folly to orget that there are occasions where we powers are stronger than three, and hat an addition to the numbers carrier diminution of efficiency. Thus, the villainles of the 'heavy man' give offense to fewer people, since they can trace no resemblance to themselves in him."

"The bulk of the Hebrew population in New York City is made up of descendants of immigrants from Russia, Germany and Austria. Among these, the red-haired type is very rarely found. In India, where there is a large Hebrew population—most of them strictly orthodox—scattered over the country, there are more representatives of the race with red, or light hair, than with dark. Ethnologists have never explained this: in fact, I don't think they have paid any attention to it. Historians assert that the Hebrews in the day of the greatness of Jerusalem, were a blonde race, and it may be that the members of the race who settled in India, finding the climate similar to that of their own country and living in stricter adherence to the Mosaic law, have better preserved the original type.

Thus we have the first portrait of this famous monarch.

It is now authoritatively declared that this statue must have been taken from the tombs of the Egyptian Kings. It was brought to the museum from Egypt some years ago, but then its genuineness was called into question. The other day, however, C. H. Hendemondt, an Egyptionigst of European repute, and Mr. Birch, the present head of the Egyptian section of the museum, while poking around, haphasard fashion in the rubbish room of the institution, happened on the rejected statue and had it brought out in the daylight. After that it took them a comparatively short time to satisfy themselves beyond any doubt of the genuineness of this likeness of the Egyptian ruler who flourished 1333 years before Christ, and whose tyranny was resisted by Moses. The statue was promptly added to the famous Egyptian ruler the museum and given one of the places of honor there.

ANTI-LANDLORD RIOTS

Attempt to Evict a Large Family from House in Lille Causes Mob to Gather.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

LILLE (France) Sept. 25.—[BY Atlantic Cable.] Extraordinary scenes were witnessed yesterday at Armentieres. A landlord having decided to evict a defaulting tenant, the father of twelve children, a crowd of about 3000 persons, orginazed a hostile demonstration before the landlord's house, which the police protected. During the evening a police magistrate attempted to arrest a demonstrator who had thrown a brick at him, whereupon the mob burst through the police lines and entered and sacked the house, the inmates of which hastily escaped by a back door. The rioters next attacked the magistrate's house adjoining and he and his wife and children were compelled to escape over the roofs.

Beinforcements of gendarmes finally dispersed the mob, but the officers were unable to make any arrests. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

A Great Man's Small Funeral.

The lack of display at the funeral of Lord Salisbury was in a way almost as ostentatious as the extravagance which it was intended to rebuke. It was the late Premier's wish that his funeral should cost not over $100. As a matter of fact it cost $70. The late Duke of Westminster, the richest nobleman in Great Britain, set a like example. The expenses attending his obsequies amounted to only $35. It is pointed out that the wood for these noblemen's caskets was grown on their own estates and shaped by their own artisans, but the purpose of each was to discountenance the senseless and often ruinous practice of making an extravagant display at funerals. The custom, both here and abroad, naturally prevails to the greatest extent among those least able to afford it. Both the Duke and Marquis held exalted positions in a worldly sense and a large measure of display at their funerals might have been pardonable. Both being men of the ha'dest kind of sense, sought to check a tendency which is becoming too marked. Naturally, no objection can be raised to a custom which implies every respect for the dead when that respect is not exhibited too largely in externals. It is a wholly false pride which prompts the great sacrifice which the poor often feel called upon to make at funerals.—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Canst tell me," said Cicero, of the cei-brated sketch team of Cicero and Sneezicks, "why doth our beloved Emperor raise the wineglass to his lips?"

"That I cannot," answered Sneezicks. "Why doth our beloved Emperor raise the wineglass to his lips?"

"The better," said Cicero, catching Sneezicks a stinging blow over the nose with a colored supplement, "the better to get at the contents."

"In faith," sneezed Sneezicks, "tis but a scurvy joke. Here is one for thee: What hand did Antony hold that won his fame and enjoyment in the East?"

"Perhaps," ventured Cicero, "It was a royal flush."

"Wrong," said Sneezicks. "The answer is Royal Egypt."

"Ladles and gentlemen," shouted Cicero to the retreating audience, "with your kind attention we will now render that immortal ballad, 'Nero, Feed Wife's Mamma to the Llons.' Sneezicks, the educated pig, will grunt high C."

If there are any considerable number of southern men who share the views of Mr. Northern, it should not be so very difficult a matter to arrive at some satisfactory solution of the negro problem. Perhaps it may solve itself, before long, so far as the Southern States are concerned, for the negroes are leaving that section in constantly increasing numbers, which is surely not to be wondered at. Many of them are finding their way to Southern California, and in Los Angeles there is already quite a large negro settlement. There is piently of work for them, hereabouts, in the vineyards, and orchards, and

All this is highly encouraging. We have not yet accomplished all that we desire and propose to accomplish in the Philippines. ### Weather "Signs."

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mr. R. D. Hoyt in his letter in The Times of the 23rd inst., telis us that we are going to have a dry fall and winter. It would be interesting to know on what grounds this statement is based. I have lived in Los Angeles or the immediate vicinity for many years and from my observation of the climate it is impossible to tell even from week to week—let alone for a whole season—what our winter weather is going to be. The only guide I know of—and this is generally tolerably correct—is the kind of winter a portion of Australia has passed through (the season there, of course, being reversed) during what is here our spring and summer. This seems to be somewhat of a guide, as Australia has been passing through the same number of years of deficient rainfall that we have in California. This year, however, I read in the London Times that "New South Wales, South Australia, and all the parts of Southeastern Australia whose climate and rainfall somewhat correspond to ours in California, have had the most copious fall and winter rains, and that the last signs of the long drough have completely disappeared. If there is anything in this theory we should have a wet and not a dry fall and winter in California. Now let us wait and see whether the moon or Australia theory wins out.

And now, right in the midst of this torn-up condition, Contractor George Rheinschild has had an attack of "cold feet," and yesterday withdrew his force of workmen from the scens. This leaves Avenue 64, or as it is generally known, Mountain avenue, practically impassable, with no prospect of its immediate improvement.

Mr. Rheinschild, it is understood, does not propose to take any further chances on street work, and he has informed the Garvansa people that the property towners along the streets to be improved will have to sign waivers of all proved will have to sign waivers of all legal claims under the recent decision before he will proceed with the work.

Yesterday petitions were circulated and a considerable amount of the frontage affected was signed up; but several of the owners of other "arcels are holding out, for various reasons, and some of the parties are non-residents and hard to locate, so there is a probability of a long-drawn out wait before the work is resumed. Meanwhile Mr. Reinschild has taken his forces over to Boyle Heights and placed them at work on private contracts.

in the third and fourth, and got the first pair in the seventh by the one, two, three route. Seven of the visitors atood like stumps while Joe squirted his "snake ball" over the plate-a quick breaking inshoot that looks for all the world like a budding outcurve when it atarts. It would cross a straight line from the plate to the precher's slab twice, and most of Pete's elur-eres could do nothing better than stand and look at it whenever the bender broke to Joe's satisfaction. With the same motion he threw a wide out, and a straight ball, with considerable changes of speed, and the combination completely routed Lohman's best batters. In the sixth inning Corbstt temporarily lost control of his curve ball and had to lay the leather right over after walking a man. The two hits that resulted and an infield out from Wheeler, cooked around to see if he had properly kicked the bag, and while he was debating the question with himself, Muriock sneaked in, taking advantage of Heinie's loading with the ball. When the Count woke up it was too late to do any good. The mischlef was done any-how for Toman missed the next ball, hit by Moskiman. That inning was the built time the men of Lohman were really dangerous. Pete was on the side lines personally directing the battle all the afternoon and in the inning previous he threw away a possible chance for a run by taking, an unwarranted liberty with Arthur Ross's arm, which like most desperate chances resulted in a man being thrown out at the plate after a hit batsman, Moskiman's sacrifice. Gorton's nass and a single to left hy O'Hara had left things in a promising condition for run-making. Messerly was on second when O'Hara hit the ball, but the drive went right at Ross, and he stood there in the field a second aiming the sphere and waiting to see if Pete really meant business in motioning his first baseman to make the try for home. Seeing Don Pietro intended to go through with the play, Artic lined the hall into Hurthurt's mitt and nailed Happy Jack by a whole stride. When a sim

Twice he was in David's hands, but was spared. This brought on a paroxysm of remorse, which David knew was not true repentance. When the final battle came he was so conscious of being abandoned by God that he sought aid of a witch and was warned of his doom. His death by his own hand was a fitting close to his life. He had been committing slow suicide and now this is the final stroke. He had slain his soul; he may now destroy his physical life. Woman is Dead and He Jailed After Long Search.

Rev. C. D. Whalen, Worthless Grafter, Ingraliated Himself Here.

On information from the authorities at Prattsburg, N. Y., the police have been working for several weeks trying to locate Rev. C. D. Whalen and Mrs. James H. Clark, both of that city, who eloped about eight months ago and came west. During their investigation the officers learned that the woman had died in Los Angeles, and yesterday afternoon learned that the woman had died in Los Angeles, and yesterday afternoon their efforts were rewarded by the capture of the man who was responsible for her downfall. Whalen was arrested in his room at No. 538 Wall street by Patrolman W. B. Craig, and locked up on suspicion, until a more definite charge can be lodged against him. Soon after his arrest he candidly admitted that he is the man for whom so long a search has been made.

One reason for the difficulty the police experienced in finding the man was the fact that grafting from religiously-inclined persons was not his only means of earning an easy living. His regular business since he came here has been that of vender of a "hair restorer" which he manufactures. He moved from place to place.

at religious meetings and secured all he could from those with whom he was associated in such meetings, he proved an elusive bird.

Whalen appeared here about seven months aro, claiming to hail from New York. He was accompanied by a pretty little woman of twenty years, whom he introduced as his wife. They had little money, and applied to the local branch of the Volunteers of America for assistance. Whalen stated that he was a minister of the gospel, but had not had a regular charge, and therefore had no money. The couple was introduced to charitable persons, and Whalen ingratiated himself with certain members of the W.C.T.U., who materially assisted him. He is a man of attractive presence, and made many friends. He preached at many of the religious meetings held by the various organizations to which he was presented, and it is said that his preaching was excellent.

DEATH OF WOMAN.

The woman supposed to be Mrs. Whalen was also an ardent church worker and endeared herself to many well-known women of this city. Inasmuch as Whalen and the woman were ever ready to assist in the work of the Volunteers of America they were given a room at the headquarters of that organization. The supposed Mrs. Whalen was in a delicate condition. She met with a slight accident early in August and although her friends secured for her the best medical attention, she died suddenly, August 27, after having been in bed only twelve hours. There was not the slightest suspicion then that her death was due to other than natural causes, and if such suspicion exists now so much time has elapsed that it would be impossible to establish whether the suspicion is well founded.

Whalen seemed heartbroten and as he had no money his friends among the Volunteers relied funds to pay the funeral expenses and also the doctobilis, which amounted to considerably over 100. Whalen continued his religious work, but not with the fervorthat had previously marked his efforts. About a week after the death of the woman he wrote to members of his ewn family in New York State telling them that Mrs. Clark—for the woman was Mrs. Clark with whom he had eloped—had died of kidney discare and had been burled here. He told them nothing of what he was doing and gave no address by which they could answer the letter.

The relatives of the dead woman

ELOPED WITH PASTOR.

ELOPED WITH PASTOR.

The relatives of the dead woman were put in possession of this information and began an investigation on their own account, although it was not until some time afterward that they invoked the aid of the Los Angeles police. Their first inquiry to the Police Department was for particularity of the death of Mrs. James H. Clark, but when the officers examined the records in the City Health Department they could find no such name. Whalen had carried the deception to the grave of the woman and she had been burled as his wife.

Little by little the facts came out and it was learned that Whalen had been pastor of the Free Baptist Church at Prattsburg. N. Y. where he had a wife and four children. James H. Clark and wife were members of his congregation. Whalen and Mrs. Clark disappeared about eight months ago and until Whalen's letter announcing the death of the woman was received, his relatives knew nothing of his whereabouts.

Even after Warden had been placed behind the bars in the City Jall some of the persons who had heard him preach and had given him assistance had faith in him They believed that some mistake had been made and were ready to help get him out of trouble if he was innocent.

A number of these friends went to the Police Station to offer him such assistance as was in their power. Before they talked with him they made inquiries of the officers as to the particulars of the case. The evidence of the man's perfidy was overwhelming and when the police displayed the facts and documents they have in their possession, the callers were convinced. As they still desired to see the prisoner they were taken into the jail.

TALKS OF HIS CRIMES.

Whalen met them with surprising

Whalen met them with surprising coolness. He was not nervous and appeared to be but little dejected. He talked of his crimes as caimly as it he was discussing a topic of everyday conversation. When asked directly if the woman with whom he came here, and whom he introduced as his wife, was not the wife of another, he admitted the truth of the charge that he had eloped from New York with the woman. In the next breath he acknowledged that he had deserted a wife and four children and that he did not know where or how they are living now. He offered no other excuse for his conduct than the the had loved the woman whe had surrendered not only her honor but her life for him.

And back of the maturing plans of the club members is a little story of helpfulness and the expression of the Christ spirit that goes far to restore confidence in human nature when dominated by right motives.

The object of the club, as set forth in its bylaws, is "mutual helpfulness among self-supporting women," and the motio. "The best there is in you always," is a sentiment worked out daily in the lives of the membership, as evidenced in all their activités.

The origin of the club and the erection and maintenance of a vacation home for self-supporting girls were correlative ideas, born of the same thought, both having their apring it unique and unusual pastime. "An Art Party" it was called, various masterpieces being developed in chewing gum, with a toothpick, in lieu of a sculptor's chisel. They were supplied with gum, model and toothpick, a dainty card being handed to each guest. Tied at one corner with red ribbons were the gum and the toothpicks: lower down was a charming silhouetic, or a Gibson head, or a picture of "Br'er Rabhit," or the Gold Dust Twins, or the California burro. The first duty of chewing the gum being performed, those who rose to the occasion proceeded to copy their models, many surprising, triumphs and fow alarming failures resulting. The house was adapted to the artist's dreams of color, with flaming geraniums in the hall, rosy pinks in the drawing-room, where dainty viands were served. Punch was served by three pretty school girls. Mabel B. Stuart, Mamie Voight and Mamie Packard. The artists engaged in the competition were Miss Church, Miss Ross, Miss Jenkins, Miss Elizabeth Jenkins, Miss Bennett, Miss Pirtle, Miss Rendell, Miss Le Nole, Miss French, Miss Underhill, Miss Ida Underhill, Miss Gray, Miss Robinson, Miss Martha Robinson, Miss Markins, Miss Thresher, Miss McCarthy and

The natural reluctance which every woman feels to consult a physician regarding troubles peculiar to their sex caused Mrs. C. My head ached so that it fairly thumped and at times it seemed that I would go crazy. My stomach became so weak that it would retain only the lightest food. Week retain only the lightest food. Week after week I took the doctor's medicine, but I continued to feel worse and worse. On several occasions I was confined to my bed for a week at a time. My weight decreased to 102 pounds and I seemed a confirmed invalid.

City Engineer Stafford explained to the board that something must be done to protect the central intercepting sewer from East Los Angeles and Boyle Heights, where it crosses the river. Originally the sewer was over four feet below the river bed, but such large quantities of sand have been hauled away that it is now exposed so that water can run under it. The City Engineer said it would cost $10,000 to bury the sewer in concrete, but that even the damage that would cost $10,000 to bury the sewer in concrete, but that even the damage that would compared the the damage that would compared the compared that the city dire plus to protect the sewer and "stagested to accept the work that aum would be small compared the the contractor, and the will make sewer burst. There has been an ordinance prohibiting the digging of sand within a certain distance of the bridges, but it has not been enforced. Davenport didn't like the idea of charsing the sand men a special tax and he said: "If you charge a toll of 5 cents a load on that sand, your name is Dennis."

Therefore the city Fathers are prone to nonder.

Therefore the city Fathers are prone to ponder.

After a lengthy debate the board voted to refer to the committee of the whole the application of Herman W. Hellman for permission to build a stairway to the basement of his new building at Fourth and Spring streets, projecting out into the Spring-street sidewalk about three feet. Mr. Hellman stipulates that in case the petition is granted he will not use any iron trap doors in the sidewalk such as occasion so much inconvenience to pedestrians on the downtown sidewalks. The district for the opening of Clay street from Second to Third street was fixed by the board yesterday to cover all property abutting on the proposed street.

Supervisors Alexander and Graham submitted to the board a deed to a strip of land twenty feet wide along Griffin and Wood avenues, together with a wider strip at the corner of the two streets. Wood avenue is the street which the Supervisors expect to improve with a "hobo" chain gang. The strip of twenty feet is now a part of the County Hospital grounds. It will be deeded to the city and added to the width of the streets. The board agreed to allow the Supervisors to take soil from the strip after the grade is established to fill in around the new County Hospital buildings.

The record for official city advertising was broken yesterday, when fifty ordinances were sent to the printer. Some of the ordinances had been delayed by Mayor Snyder's absence from the city, and many were passed pursuant to the adoption of new specifications for street improvement.

ELECTRIC SIGNS.

A comely, well-dressed woman entered the City Clerk's office to examine some records, and after obtaining the desired information, departed. AT THE COURTHOUSE. ARES SHAME FOR ILLEGITIMATE CHILD.

Rollins.

The matter was finally continued until December 8, without any action. In the mean time the little girl will remain in the convent of the Immaculate Heart on Pico Heights.

No one knows who Lillie Finley is or was. She is apparently the child's real mother.

The most mysterious feature of the case is the eagemess of these people to take the child. Why did Julia Polleau want it? Why do Mr. and Mrs. Matth want it? The Martins say to the judge that they do not care if the child stays with them or not, but are willing to give her a home. At the same time, they have an attorney fighting to get her for them.

The Italian does not want the child. He says he would be willing to give her a home, but he lives on Aliao street where it is not proper to bring up a child. He says his only object in bringing the matter into court is to get the child into a good home.

The Martins live on Ramirez street, and are of the most ignorant French peasant class.

TELEPHONE SECRETS.

FIRED EMPLOYEES GET EVEN. Four discharged telephone collectors Four discharged telephone collectors burning with eagerness to give, the company a knock, had their innings in Justice Young's court yesterday.

They were trying to collect salary from the time they were still fired, March 6, to the end of that month, And, oh, the bitter words that they said! said:
Mr. Wood was one of the first who had a chance to throw the harpoon into the corporation. He did so with unction.

The company's lawyer, W. E. Dunn, Esq., tried to show that the men had been discharged for not making col-"Why was it that you did not make nose collections?" asked Wood's attorney.

"Because," said the witness with grim satisfaction, "because the telephone service was so poor that people wouldn't pay. There were at least 2000 who refused to pay."

"Who, for instance?"

"Well, Dr. Kurts, for instance."

Mr. Dunn put in bitingly. "Do you mean the same Dr. Kurts who is a director in the Home Telephone Company?"

"Nearly all the physicians I had on

"Nearly all the physicians I had on my list made the same reply to the bills," said Wood.

Wood's lawyer, Mr. Harris, responded with sarcasm, "I don't suppose you will claim that all the physicians in the city are directors of the Home Telephone Company."

Dunn threw up his hands wearily, "If the court please," he said, "If this is going to be forced to become an issue of this case, we want to object."

The case then went on, ripped of sensation.

Miss Norton, one of the cashiers of the company, said that the young men were discharged for incompetency. She said, however, under cross-examination, that she had asked them to work on Sunday and they wouldn't do it.

There was a more serious element in the case, it being charged that one of the collectors returned only $2.50 on a collected bill of $5.

The case was continued for argument.

TOUGH CRIPPLE SENT TO IONE.

Gus Shoemaker, the young cripple who helped Ed Sullivan rob a watter named Burdell, was sent to lone for two years yesterday. Shoemaker is only 18 years old. He is a one-legged street beggar, who has been asking alms in the Los Angeles streets for a long time, sometimes selling pen-cils as a bluff. His pal, Sullivan, will be sentenced today. Their offense was an unusually aggravated one for they gave their victim the "strong arm."

in Folsom by Judge Smith yesterday.

King is the thug who entered the house of Miss Virginia Miller and who tried to strike her when she discovered him riffing her room. She chased him until a pedestrian caught him and sent for the police.

When he came up in Judge Smith's court yesterday, he told a sniveling story about being driven to steal by hunger. Doubtless he is a very near-sighted burgiar and did not see on all the sign boards of the employment companies pathetic appeals for men to work.

MRS. GRIFFITH TOO SICK.

Several telegrams passed between Sheriff Stone of Fort Worth and Chief Elton of this city, and the latter was requested to hold Strickland, as redisition papers have been secured quisition papers have been secured and an officer will arrive here not later than September 30.

Strickland put up a bluff against the charge of Mrs. Dougherty, and claimed 6 for making repairs to a house and $13.57 for tools and a pair of pantaloons, all of which he claimed were stolen from his room. The court was adversely impressed with Strickland's claim because he had never thought of it until after he was arrested for leaving without paying his bill.

He was sentenced to pay a fine of $15, and was permitted to hustle around and get the money, before being informed that he was to be held on the telegram from Texas. The simple statement was made in the telegram that Strickland was wanted for forgery, but no particulars were given.

DOPE MEN LET GO. TAMALE MEN ABANDONED. Some weeks ago when C. Wolen slager was arrested for selling ham burg steak preserved with the sub stance known as "freeze-em," he re-fused to plead guilty, as a number of other butchers had done, and stood trial. It was at the time understood that the case was being fought by the manufacturers of the compound, and upon conviction of Wolenslager for violation of the pure-food act his fine was paid, it is intimated, by the com-was paid, it is intimated, by the company.

At the time of Wolenslager's arrest a number of tamale men were taken in on a like compiaint, but their cases were allowed to rest until the case of Wolenslager was disposed of. They were called up yesterday and five of them—G. R. Atkinson, W. S. Clifford, C. Poppenski, John Spoul and F. J. Sampson—were each fined $25. Three others were disminssed because they were thought to be less directly connected with the sale of the doped meat. The trial of George Hoffman, who failed to appear, was set for Monday, it is understood that the tamale men had the pleasure of paying their own fines, as the "freeze-em" business promises to be very unprofitable from this time forth.

Hett Will Plead Today.

William Hett, the man who was arrested for refusing to secure medical aid for his little son, who is suffering with a broken arm, was yesterday arraigned before Justice Chambers on a charge of failure to provide, and was given until today to plead.

Mexican Robbed in Broad Daylight in a Saloon Before Several Witnesses but no One Helped Him.

At the instance of P. Pacheco, a Mexican, Martin Morales was arrested last night by a deputy constable and will be charged with robbery. Officers are searching for another Mexican whose name is unknown to them, but who assisted Morales.

The crime was committed about 7 o'clock yesterday morning in DeGeorgi's salon, No. 870 Buena Vista street. According to Pacheco's story, he wentinto the place with Morales and another Mexican and surchased a drink for the three, paying for it with a 55 gold piece. When his change was laid on the bar, one of his companions "atrong-armed" him: that is, seized him from behind and choked him with his forearm, while the coher took the money. Facheco says he called for assistance, but the several men in the saloon thought it was nile a joke, and did not interfere. The lagging of wheat in eastern markets, for lack of export demand, is assigned as the reason for the decline. The eastern flour situation generally, however, is firm.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.-If a stranger, preferably from some for-eign land, were to come to San Fran-cisco at the present time and see the political rows that are going on in the various conventions, he would undoubtedly wonder when the pitched

But while they were waiting, there came to them a warning that the Democratic convention would insist that none of its nominees accept the nomination of any other party. This did not prevent Cabaniss and Mogan from continuing their work for the nomination, but no sooner hal that been accomplished than the two aspirants for political favor hurriedly left the convention hall. When the nomination was announced, a call went up for speeches of acceptance from the two candidates, but the committee which had been sent to escort them to the platform was compelled to announce to the convention that aud-battle would come off. There is such an evidence of earnestness about the delegates to the various conventions that one not versed in ways political might be led to believe that the members of the different parties were fighting for some principle that meant the salvation of the State.

This is not quite true of the recent meeting of the Republican convention, which organised a week ago, and then took an adjournment for time to fully deliberate on the next move. This accession of a spirit of deliberation is injected into the proceedings of the convention in order that it may be truly termed a "deliberative" bedy. Had the convention gone on with the work on that first night and finished up the slate which was so patent to everybody, the whole affair would have been so dry that it would have bearn that the same time research as the same time research that th

OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE.

More Than a Hundred at Last Night's Y.M.C.A. Stag Reception-Was an Athletic Meeting.

More than a hundred men thronged the Occidental chapel last evening at 8:30 when J. Percival Hagerman called the Y.M.C.A. rally to order. It was the Y.M.C.A. raily to order. It was the "stag" reception given by the as-sociation to the new men in college, to get them to feel at home and a part of the college. It partook of the nature of an athletic rally from the nature of an athletic raily from the time the first speaker, Charles F. Ba-zata, began until the adjournment. The ex-captain of the football team, Bazata, spoke on the privilege of col-lege loyalty. He was followed by William Walker, who urged everybody lege loyalty. He was followed by William Walker, who urged everybody to show their spirit by getting out on the football field if they possibly could. Dan S. Hammach spoke on the "Manager's Standpoint." Each one of these speeches was filled to overflowing with good feeling and was constantly interrupted by applause. President Guy W. Wadsworth also spoke a few words, assuring the new students what the old students well knew; his interest and support of athletics as carried on at O.C. Different men of the team were called upon, among them being Millen, Wieman, Carver, Thompson, and a new man, Kyburg.

According to the wish of football Captain Wieman, a short meeting of the Athletic Association was called, and Mr. Wieman stated the reasons why it would be impossible for him to continue and best for the team, if he resigned his position. He stated that it would be impossible for him to afford the time necessary for the captaincy. Mr. Hagerman then nominated C. F. Basata, who was elected unanimously.

He asked for a short time to con-

He asked for a short time to consider the action, but remains as temporary captain, and with no prospects of his being able to get out of the position, for every man realizes that there is no other man that is so capable as he.

The joilification was brought to a close by announcing that there was truit to be served on the steps of the building, and several boxes of grapes, as well as others filled with applea, pears, and peaches, were disposed of.

Phelan has political aspirations that makes it absolutely necessary for him to have some sort of newspaper backing, and the natural sequence of events made him the logical purchaser of the paper. It transpires that the whole rumor arose from the fact that Phelan and Fremont Older, managing editor of the Bulletin, who has long had an eye out toward the Call, had been seen in close conversation at the club. But we have the assurance of both Phelan and Spreckels that there is nothing to it, and thus the hopes of many a politician is again blasted.

That Boycott $100 Essay. Women's and Children's Hosiery at 12tc.

A Hundred Dollar Essay is being mailed to everybody in the directory by the crowd of character assassins, liars, grafters and men whose self esteem has surk to a lower level than a felon's, who work in the dark and under cover. It is signed by one W. G. Rundall, of Hollywood, Cal. We do not know whether there is in reality such a man or not. More than likely he is a dummy. We hope so for we would hate to think there is a human being who would sink so low in the human scale as to stutify himself for the sake of $100.00 and be the mouthpiece of these social outcasts of hood and slander and utter their abuse, lies and slander; these ghouls who filch lucre out of the honest toiler and the industrious merchant by fear, threats, and by keeping the community in constant turmoil; who to fatten their loins take the bread out of innocent and unprotected babes of willing workingmen and leave want, misery and death in their wake-these are the creatures who caused these lies to be mailed to you, honest reader. We have posted $1000.00 if anyone can prove that we ever said that workingmen were "degenerates" and "curs" or ever referred to working women as "doves from soiled nests."

We are guilty of advertising in the Times and because we insist on conducting our business as we see fit we have been abused by Hay, Rogers, Biddle, and the baance of their ilk, whose last resort is lying abuse and defamation in an abortive attempt to injure us with the Los Angeles public But it has and it will act upon these ghouls as a boomerang. We leave it to you, good people of Los Angeles, to sav whether twenty-two years of honest toil in your midst is sufficient contradiction of the lies emanating from the above source.
